CONGREGATIONAL HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY. The Congregational Home Missionary Society, as an organization, began in 1826. Its principles, however, have been dominant in our churches from 1620 onward. As the embodiment of such principles, its aim is the realization of the ideal Christian state; its method, to carry the Gospel into destitute regions, and to aid Christian institutions temporarily needy. In such service it has expended $18,086,475 in money and supplies ($621,608.25 during the years 1893-94.) It has organized and maintained 6,100 churches, into which have been gathered 422,041 members. It is practically a Foreign Missionary Society also, having at present 218 missionaries on its roll who are preaching in the German, Slavic and Scandinavian tongues. The California Home Missionary Society, a branch of the National Congregational Society, was organized in 1852, covering the entire State. In 1887 the territory was divided at the northern line of Kern county, and the Southern California Home Missionary Society was organized. In the Northern District sixty-three missionaries have ministered to eighty-eight churches and about fifty out-stations during the years 1893-94. Fourteen churches have been organized in this year, all but one in regions hitherto churchless. From many quarters calls for similar organizations continually come which are responded to as fast as the funds in hand allow. For such funds the Society depends upon the Congregational Churches of the State. James K. Harrison, Superintendent of Northern California and Nevada, 735 Market street.

CONGREGATIONAL MINISTERS' RELIEF SOCIETY OF CALIFORNIA. Incorporated in 1886. The permanent fund, which is constantly growing, is now over $2,000—plus some $600 for emergencies. The fund is built up by annual donations, chiefly from ministers, the largest donations being contributed, however, by laymen belonging to the denomination.

TO BUSINESS MEN:

Most business men believe in the theory that the best is always the cheapest, in the long run. Customers invariably entertain a kindly feeling toward the firm that supplies them with strictly first-class goods. Apropos of this, a few words in regard to Crocker's Printed Writing Papers. We take pleasure in recommending our special brands of papers as being the highest quality obtainable in each grade that they represent. . . . . .

Our facilities for executing orders for printed stationery — either "printed" or lithographed — cannot be equaled in the Pacific States. Critical patrons of the graphic arts can save themselves annoyance by bearing these facts in mind.

STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE

OF THE

CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO.

COMPILED FROM OFFICIAL SOURCES.

EXPLANATIONS.

According to the method adopted in this city for numbering buildings, Market Street is the starting point for numbers on all streets running from it in a northerly, southerly or westerly direction, and the water front for all streets running therefrom in a westerly or southwesterly direction. The numbers on all streets not commencing at Market Street or the water front run in conformity with the numbers of the main streets running parallel with them, except in the case of a few streets which are numbered in an irregular manner.

On all streets the even numbers are on the right-hand side, and the odd numbers on the left, starting from the point of beginning. One hundred numbers, or as many thereof as are necessary, are allotted to each block bounded by main streets; for instance, Montgomery Street commences at Market, and the main streets crossing as you proceed north are Sutter, Bush, Pine, etc. Therefore any numbers between 1 and 100 will be found on the right or left hand side of the street between Market and Sutter, between 100 and 200 from Sutter to Bush, between 200 and 300 from Bush to Pine.

In the streets which are numbered, a dash (——) indicates that the cross street does not extend to that side; (o), the street borders on the bay, or public park, cemetery, etc., consequently there are no buildings on blocks thus designated; (c), the street is not opened through the block, or is interrupted in its course at that point by a public square, cemetery, etc.; (e), end of street.

On the parallel streets between Fourteenth and Thirtieth, and also on several streets in other parts of the city, many of the buildings have been incorrectly numbered. The numbers at street crossings as given in this work are strictly in accordance with the city ordinance regulating the numbering of buildings.
